

Dolly Faulkner

November 26, 1934 - August 11, 2019

Mrs. Dolly Faulkner was a soft spoken, wise and very independent lady who made you laugh at her jokes made almost just above a whisper but with a sure delivered punch. Her grandchildren remember her saying many times “not so loud” quietly but ever so forcefully followed by a big hug and a kiss. Born in November of 1934 to the union of Rev. C. H. and Pauline Hargrove in Lincolnton, North Carolina, she moved to Gainesville, Georgia with her family while still a young child. She lived a loving life as a wife, mother, grandmother, great and great-great grandmother in the Gainesville community, well known and loved by all.

A member of Greater Timber Ridge Baptist Church, she was also a regular attendee of New Life Baptist Church until her health began to fail. She loved to attend Bible Study at Myrtle Terrace where she lived. As an employee of Northeast Georgia Medical Center, Mrs. Faulkner worked as a surgical technician for 50 years before retiring. After retiring she became an active volunteer at Good News at Noon where she shared her love for giving and helping others in various ways. She continued her lifelong caregiving career by “sitting with” and caring for elderly people in the community. While continuing to keep her ties with fellow workers at the hospital, she and her “crew” kept an engagement to meet for lunch on the fourth Monday of each month. Her passion and delight were her family and friends. She was known for her positivity, cheerfulness, her quiet words and calm demeanor.

Mrs. Faulkner departed this life peacefully in her sleep at her home on August 11, 2019. She was preceded in death by her father, Reverend C. H. Hargrove, mother, Pauline Hargrove, brother Charles Hargrove Jr, sister, Goldie Williams, daughter, Marsha Jones, grandchildren, Tyreze Jones and Khalalah Jones.

She leaves to cherish her memory: a loving, devoted daughter, Diane Harris of Athens, Georgia; God-daughter, Debora Shirley of Gainesville, GA; two nephews, Charles Hendrix , Sr. and Stanley Randolph, both of Athens, GA; one granddaughter, Tiara Harris of Athens, GA; great grandchildren, Tiekera Harris, De'Angelo Harris, Jordan Harris, all of Athens, GA, Khalil Jones, Jamesha Jackson, Maelia King, all of Gainesville, GA; Two great-great grandchildren, Braelin C. Hendricks of Athens, GA and Copelan Young of Gainesville, GA. Special Friends: Mrs. Helen Peaks, OR Team at NEGMC, Mrs. Dorothy Lyles, Mrs. Mary Rucker, Dr. Henry Lewis, Mr. Larry King, Mrs. Mattie McCrary, Friends of Myrtle Terrace and several other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Faulkner lived in Gainesville until her health began to decline. She moved to Athens, GA in November of 2018 where she was loved dearly and assisted by many. The family gives their greatest and warmest gratitude to Reverend Johnny and Mrs. Vanessa Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Keon Stephen, Mrs. Barbara Greshan, Mrs. Sheryl Hill, Ms. Carlette Goss, Ms. Barbara Smith, Ms. Kenyatta Denise, all of Athens, GA. Also, an extended thanks is given to the Hospice Team of Athens for assistance and guidance in the last weeks of her life.

“ Miss Dolly let her light shine everyday and everyone could see the beauty of the Lord in her. I lived at Myrtle Terraces Apartments where Dolly lived for short time, I would take her my Newspapers everyday and she always opened her door with a smiling face. Dolly always wanted me to assist her with her Gold Fish because they would die and she would just go and buy more. I would tell Miss Dolly that she was feeding the fish to much and she would laugh. Miss Dolly fed me and so many others, not with food but so much Love that will forever be in our hearts. Till I see you again Miss Dolly I will miss you and forever remember your love and kindness to me.
