“ My deepest condolences to the Gray family. Eric and I worked together at AT&T for many years, and I consider him more than just a colleague. We shared our life experiences, the ups the downs, the additions, and the losses. He was a blast to work with and he made the work environment interesting to say the least. His cunning quick wit was the catalyst for a day of puns and firing shots over the bow. He will be dearly missed by his AT&T family.
