

Freddy Lamar Stovall

November 11, 1959 - February 5, 2021

On February 5th Freddie (Red) Lamar Stovall transitioned to his heavenly home. Fredrick Lamar Stovall was born November 11, 1959 in Adele, Ga. He was a father, farmer and a loving husband. He worked for a local recycling company for over 25 years, where he made lasting friendships.

Freddie loved to eat at his favorite restaurant The Red House. He loved to go, fishing, helping with the food ministry, and watching the history channel. His legacy will continue through his loving wife of 33 years, Yonnah Stovall, daughter Hannah, and close cousin, who grew up with him like a brother, Timothy Watkins.

A very special thanks to his "Posses & Friends" Jimmy Owens, Gerald Owens, Ricky Owens, Willie Harrison, Tate, and Tommy Joe Harris.

“ Oh my sweet love, I can't believe that it's been 2 years since I lost the love of my life .I wish someone could please tell me how do you mend a broken 💔. My world will never be the same having lost you and my mom just months apart. I know that we cannot control our circumstances, we just have to surrender to the Spirit. God is with us in this process. So my prayer is: Loving Lord of life, I don't know how or what to pray- so I ask that you pray through me. I surrender myself to your Spirit. Be born in me . Amen
