“ Another day year and moment without you. I just want you to know your about to be a grandpa for the 5th time...it's a boy this time daddy.. I want to name him after you I want to be able to have you again. Life isn't fair and I don't think I ever meant for it to be but I wish I could of had a little more time with you..me you and the kids... I miss you so much. Year after year trying to go on don't get no easier I'm just lifted with a hole that can't be filled.. I know your probably saying baby girl you have to let me go but imagine losing someone you thought that you would have forever.. it's pain pop it's true pain.. many of these days I need to pick up the phone and call you but heaven don't have a personal line.. seeing you face always made me better no matter what I was going through and now I'm here in this world with you trying to figure out them days when they hit no one to call on but God wishing I can talk to my daddy see your face and hear your voice... “ My husband and I have so many precious memories with James Mays aka Pops that we can't only pick one. Pops was a very loved man by many people, especially my husband and I. He had a good heart and would give you the shirt off his back. That's just the type of man Pops was. Pops you are truly missed. R.I.P. our dear friend. I'm hoping your mommy was there to greet you at the pearly gates and just watch over everyone you loved and everyone that loved you.
