

Millie Norman Miller

December 31, 1951 - October 9, 2021

Three doves visited her each morning at her home for the last few months. Sometimes they'd sing and other times they would sit quietly watching her as she watched them.

Birds are free, and so is Millie Rose Miller.

Born on December 31, 1951 in Gainesville Georgia, Millie lived a life rich with service, educating children, supporting those in addiction recovery, and most of all devotion and unconditional love for her family and God.

“Do you want to be a worrier or a warrior?” she would often say. Millie was a faithful prayer warrior, Shofar blower, and intercessor who prayed with and stood in the gap for countless individuals during challenging times.

She was always “in the word.” She rose up each morning with a psalm of gratitude in her heart and laid down each evening on a blanket of scripture.

On October 9, 2021 Millie laid down for her final time. Then spread her wings, and “took” to the sky much like the doves who'd been visiting her.

Those who have gone before her and some of the Ancestors welcoming her include: Her grandparents Herbert and Rose Williams, Millie and Crawford Norman, her parents Nathaniel and Annie Mae Norman and her sister Louise Norman Rousey.

She is survived by her husband, James Miller, four children Ebony Reynolds and Octavia Raheem, Mario Reynolds and Jemar Raheem, her “pride and joy” three grandchildren, Kamyrn Reynolds, Ariana Reynolds, and Oyetunde Raheem, siblings Marjorie Norman, Nathan Ann Norman, Joe Norman, Gloria Goss, Ozie Norman, a deep circle of (great and grand) nieces, nephews, friends, and spiritual daughters who she cared for and loved.

Doves signify hope, new life, and beginnings. Three doves visited Millie each morning at her home for the last few months. She’d watch them and they’d watch her.

And now, they are flying together toward a new beginning, beyond this space and time.

Birds are free, and so is Millie Rose.

In lieu of flowers and gifts academic scholarship funds have been set up in her honor for two learning communities she loved, OMNI International in Atlanta and Calvary Christian School in Naperville Illinois.

“ My most favorite memory of Millie is all the private conversations we use to have for hours. . She was one true friend that I could talk to about anything and she always encouraged me and no matter what she always had me laughing all the time. We worked together also at Enota Elementary school and she was the friend that I was always with during lunch and at other times. My heart is truly broken but I have accepted the fact that God called her home for reason beyond my understanding. I just trust God. My family wishes to express our deepest sympathy.. I will miss my beautiful friend and the love she extended to everyone but Heaven has gained a beautiful Angel. Rest on my friend until we meet again.

“ My heart felt sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Millie. May you look at the future as it is filled with hope from God, that one day those who have fallen asleep will hear the Son of God voice and rise. Millie was sweet and kind, and demure. She was a gift from above.
